

ENGINEERING CULTURE WORKSHOP

Define your values.

Commit to organizational habits.

Create a culture you love.

Too often a company's values become a relic collecting dust on everyone's desks instead of being a decision-making tool that can be seen and felt throughout the organization.

At System & Soul we believe a team can engineer the culture they want with a simple, powerful equation.

In the Engineering Culture workshop your team will work together to determine the values that matter most in the organization, create and commit to a set of habits to bring those values to life, and determine the outcomes of the culture they want to have.

At the end of this workshop, you'll have a solid draft of your values, habits, and cultural outcomes to continue to define and deploy within your team.

Defined Core Values

Your team will collaboratively identify not only values that inspire your team, but are authentic, decision-making guideposts for the organization.

Actionable Habits

You will create and commit to specific habits help everyone on the team participate in and live out the core values on a regular basis.

Clear Cultural Vision

You'll name the outcomes you want to see as a result of committing to and living out the values you uphold.
